Fruit 2D is a utility that allows you to temporarily remove graphical elements from your desktop. It has several features that will make your wallpaper “cleaner”, which is an efficient way of making your desktop look more appealing. However, if you’re looking for an alternative to pcSweep or desktopCleaner, this app might be worth trying because this has a bit more functionality. The tool has four types of modes: Easy, hard, medium and expert. Easy mode is the one I think is the easiest to use. This mode removes items from all areas of your desktop, even sub-windows and small graphical elements on the desktop. If you want to use this mode, you simply have to select the option you want to remove, and press the button that appears. The task is then done and you are returned to your desktop. The Hard mode is designed to target the selection window, and remove all items on it. Besides, you can only use this mode if you have already selected all the items you want to remove. The Medium mode is the same as easy mode, 6a5afdab4c
