EASY2REC Crack + Full Version Free [32|64bit]

EASY2REC Torrent Download is a comprehensive tool designed to help you record the live feed from your webcam or desktop activity with ease. The tool can capture three simultaneous threads, namely video from the camera, the desktop activity and audio from the input device. Moreover, the program offers you several video editing tools. Recording simultaneous feeds EASY2REC allows you to create impressive presentations, record voice overs or video messages. The program can capture the desktop activity or record the actions in a single window, for tutorials or usage examples. The program can automatically detect the connected recording devices, webcams and microphones, plus it allows you to configure certain settings before starting the capture. You may select the number of frames per second, as well as the encoding method, by selecting one of the supported compression options. You may also set the desired options when recording the desktop activity and choose whether to capture the camera feed at the same time as well. Manage the primary and secondary footage pieces EASY2REC allows you to manage several footage pieces in parallel if you recorded more than one. When the capturing process is finished, you may export it to your computer as a video file or proceed to edit it. The program allows you to modify the size of the captured windows, separating the main footage from the secondary one. You may also insert a background image if the two videos do not cover the entire screen. Additionally, the video resolution can be modified, as well as hide one of the two videos. Alternate recordings with other videos EASY2REC allows you to import local multimedia files and merge them to the recorded videos. You can add background music and other videos as intro or outro pieces, as well as adjust the image with color filters. After editing, the videos can easily be exported to your computer as an MP4 file or another format of your choice.A Swedish doctor has won a race to become the first doctor to travel the world using nothing but a bicycle and natural energy sources. Dr Sara Sjöström launched her'solar journey' from Sweden's capital, Stockholm, on 2 October 2012. Dr Sjöström, who was a trainee in family medicine in Sweden before she realised she could combine her passion for travel with her medical career, said she was doing the tour to raise awareness about the benefits of renewable energy and to show how travelling can be done sustainably. Since her departure from Sweden, Dr Sjöström has completed
