Open YouTube and get started with this free application that helps you organize your favorite videos online. With a simple and clean design, this is a perfect tool for you to keep track of the clips you like. It supports all popular operating systems and allows you to watch them on your phone, iPad or tablet. You can even record your favorite YouTube videos, add them to a playlist and share them with your friends! MyVideoHub Author's review: YouTube is an amazing video platform and has become a pillar of online entertainment. Whether it's someone watching a video about a recent movie release, or someone uploading a video of them singing karaoke, or someone showing a screen recording of how to hack some online game, or someone showing off their workout routine, or someone doing a video on how to get better at video games and gaming music. Anywhere from toddlers to octogenarians are watching YouTube videos, and everyone knows how to use it. If you're a YouTube user, you've been a YouTube user for a while, and you can access videos easily without the need to sign in to a web browser. If you have an iPhone, your iPhone comes with it, or you can install the YouTube app and access your videos easily. A problem though, is that the YouTube application on the iPhone, and on other devices is just a web browser window that loads a YouTube website. While the app is a great way to navigate your YouTube account, you can't use any other apps or features while using it. If you want to use other apps while using YouTube, you need to use the YouTube app, and a web browser. If you are sick of opening a web browser every time you want to use the application, and you don't like the idea of having an extra application running in the background, and having the extra memory it takes, then a web browser is probably not the way to go. You can change the YouTube app to work more like the other apps on your iPhone, like the ones that you use all the time. MyVideoHub for iPhone, which is the application I will be reviewing here, is a free application that can turn the YouTube application into a more useable application. MyVideoHub: MyVideoHub is an application that allows you to use a more normal application that is designed to be used all the time, and you can access your YouTube account and your playlists, and watch and upload
