Field of the Invention This invention relates to an automatic transmission mounted on a vehicle, and more particularly to a mounting structure of a gear train having a multi-stage reduction mechanism. 2. Description of the Prior Art The construction of a conventional automatic transmission having a multi-stage reduction mechanism will be described in detail with reference to FIG. 11 of the accompanying drawings. The conventional automatic transmission is provided with a casing 1, a gear train 2 and a torque converter 3. The casing 1 is provided with an oil inlet 4 for introducing lubricating oil to the gear train 2 and the torque converter 3, a drain 5 for draining the oil from these elements, and an oil reservoir 6 formed at a bottom of the casing 1 to store the oil. The oil inlet 4 is connected to a return pipe 7 through a filter 8. The drain 5 is connected to a clean oil pan 9 through a pipework 10 so that the oil drained from the casing 1 is introduced into the clean oil pan 9. A mount 12 is attached to the casing 1 by means of bolts 11 so that the gear train 2 and the torque converter 3 are mounted on the mount 12. The gear train 2 has three power planetary gear units 21 through 23 which are respectively coupled to three prime movers 18, 19, and 20 (e.g., a drive shaft) in a power-distribut 3e33713323
