KEYMACRO is an innovative virtual keyboard which allows you to create unlimited macros with only one keyboard. What is a macro? A Macro is simply a shortcut, which is keystroke sequences that you assign to one or more functions, for example a function is "Open" for a button on your mouse. KeyMACRO eliminates the need for you to switch back to the keyboard when you want to create a macro, by inserting the keystroke directly to the program. How does it work? When you want to create a macro, you need to define its name and function. A good name may contain many characters that would be helpful, such as "Open", "Exit", "Exit To Login", "Random", "Save", etc. But what is important is that the name must be precise, even if it only contains a few characters. Once you have created a name, you can define a keystroke to activate the macro, just as you would do with a real keyboard shortcut. You can also add a description if you like. Once the macro has been created, it can be assigned to a shortcut key on your mouse. You can create one macro per shortcut key. You may define an infinite number of macros, one for each shortcut key you own. KeyMACRO is the only application that enables you to create unlimited macros on a single keyboard! What are the benefits? KeyMACRO eliminates the need to use a mouse when you create a macro. By assigning a macro to a shortcut key, you can control your computer with only one hand. KeyMACRO eliminates the need for you to switch back and forth between your keyboard and mouse. You can use any keyboard you want, even if it is not your main keyboard. You can assign a macro to a function (for example to Open a program) or to a file type (for example Open a txt file). KeyMACRO is the first application that allows you to define macros for other applications than the one you are using (for example Macros to Open a program, to Print a document, etc). In addition, KeyMACRO works very well with AutoHotKey and AutoIt scripting languages. How do I activate macros? You can assign a macro to any key of your choice. You can define a shortcut key, a keyboard shortcut, or a shortcut menu item (Context Menu) to invoke the macro. By default, the keyboard shortcuts used to open the applications are: 77a5ca646e
