Feb 27, 2015 Here is my story I have a 1982 chevy truck and the crank pulley area in the driveshaft exploded I pulled it out and the rods were broken in two so I have a hole in my crank pulley and the rod is broken the piston is broken off the end of the rod. I have to have a pulley installed on it. I have been back and fourth with the autozone and the parts store. They want to charge me $150.00 dollars just to put a pulley on it. I have decided I am going to find out how much it is going to cost to have this done at the junkyard it is $1000.00 for this to be done. So I have gone back to Autozone and they want to charge me $150.00 dollars to put the pulley on it. I am going to go to the junkyard and see what they want to charge me. Anyways to I have to have this done all around $1200.00 dollars. I need to know how much it is going to be. F250 gasket 4th gear 351 motor drive line Toyota fxx-220 3.0t the 3

Ford, Ford pickup truck FORD is a car company that is based in Dearborn, Michigan. The company was formed in Dearborn, Michigan, in 1903 by Henry Ford, his brother William Ford, and from one of their suppliers, William De Mille.[1] Today, Ford Motor Company is one of the world's largest producers of automobiles and one of the largest producers of motor vehicles in the world. Ford vehicles are sold in over 120 countries and its common use around the world. Ford has historically been a strong financial contributor to the U.S. economy and its 50,000 employees in Dearborn and its worldwide system of plants, distributors, retailers, and dealers have contributed, on average, $4.5 billion to the Detroit region's economy per year since 2000. The Dearborn Assembly Plant, which is the last remaining Ford Motor Co. assembly plant north of the U.S. border, has officially closed. The plant was the birthplace of the Ford Pinto, the Ford Edsel, the Ford Escort, the Ford Cortina, the Ford Mustang, the Ford Taurus, and the Ford Fusion, among other cars.[1] Ford Motor Company's vision is to be a global leader in mobility, which requires a broad portfolio of products and services and a world-class set of technologies, integrated into one company with a common design language, shared values and a relentless commitment to excellence.
